The Flood: Why the story you've been told about Noah and the ark is a complete misleading fabrication. (Our Hidden History and Future Series Book 2) Jonathan Shaver

The story of Noah and his ark dates back thousands of years and is familiar to just about every culture known to man. The story goes, God was angry that man had become evil and He decided to wipe out everything with a giant flood. However, Noah was blameless in all of this so God decided to let him build a boat and ride out the destruction and re-populate the earth once the waters receded. Blah, blah, blah, blah, blah. The problem is that all of the facts surrounding this story, at least as it has been told to us, are a complete fabrication. Misinterpretations and poor translations of the original text have corrupted this story and made it into something about as factual as one of Aesop's fables. This book will cover:

- What is the real story of Noah and why did God have to wipe out every living thing?
- What does the story of Noah have to do with us today?
- What does, "Noah was pure in his generations" mean?
- Who were the Nephilim?
- Why is Noah's entire family tree in the Bible?
- What do aliens and UFO's have to do with Noah's ark?

You might say, "Who cares about the real story of Noah? It happened thousands of years ago and has absolutely no impact on my life today." But you would be wrong. What happened in Noah's day is happening right here on Earth, right now, today. The same reason God had for wiping out every living thing on the planet with the exception of some animals and Noah and his family is alive and well again. Yes, some people are evil, yes, horrible things happen every day but that has zero bearing on why God must and will act again.
